End of August

Pan India rollout of U-WIN Portal soon

- Government is soon to start the countrywide rollout of U-WIN, an online vaccine management portal for childhood vaccination — similar to CoWIN used during the Covid-19 pandemic.
- The platform is already being piloted in several states, and national implementation is imminent.

What is U-WIN? How does it work

- Children, up to the age of six years, and pregnant mothers are registered on U-WIN
- Upon registration, records of all 25 shots given to a child — and the two given to pregnant mothers — can be added.

Parcham Classes

- The platform also sends SMS reminders to parents before their children are due for the next dose.
- The digital vaccine certificate — which can be downloaded by parents does away with the need to maintain the physical vaccination booklet, and allows one to get vaccinated anywhere in the country.
- U-WIN itself can be used to locate the nearest vaccination centre, and book an available slot.

Don't see others doing better than you, beat your own records everyday, because success is a fight between you and yourself.”

PM Modi Pays Tribute To Chandra Shekhar Azad On His Birth Anniversary

- Chandra Shekhar Tiwari was born on July 23, 1906, in the small city of Bhavra in Madhya Pradesh.
- Deeply moved by the Jallianwala Bagh incident on April 13, 1919, Chandrashekhar soon became a part of the Non-Cooperation Movement led by Mahatma Gandhi in 1920 and even got arrested at the young age of 15 for being a part of the movement.

- He was instrumental in reorganising the Hindustan Republican Association (HRA) into the Hindustan Socialist Republican Association (HSRA) after the deaths and arrests of several key leaders, including Ram Prasad Bismil.
- He was involved in significant revolutionary activities, including the Kakori Train Robbery in 1925, which aimed to fund the HSRA's operations
- His commitment to the armed struggle was further demonstrated through his involvement in the assassination of British police officer John Saunders in 1928, an act of vengeance for the death of Lala Lajpat Rai.
- On February 27, 1931, Azad met his end in a fierce gunfight with the police at Alfred Park in Allahabad

Centre denies special category status to Bihar

Centre Denies Special Category Status To Bihar

- The Centre said that special status to any state is given on certain parameters and the request of Bihar for Special Category Status was denied in 2012.

What is Special Category Status (SCS)?

- SCS is a classification given by the Centre to assist development of states that face geographical and socio-economic disadvantages.
- This classification was done on the recommendations of the Fifth Finance Commission in 1969.
- Status was first accorded to Jammu and Kashmir, Assam and Nagaland in 1969
- Constitution does not make a provision for SCS.

The Gadgil formula

- The issue of special category status was initially discussed in a National Development Council (NDC) meeting held in 1969.
- During this session, the DR Gadgil Committee proposed a formula for distributing central assistance to state plans in India.
- Before this, there was no dedicated formula for fund allocation, and grants were allocated based on individual schemes.

Parcham

Special Category States:

- It is based on CADGIL formula. It is based on the parameters like Hilly terrain.
- Low population density and/or sizeable share of tribal areas.
- Economic and infrastructure backwardness.
- Strategic location along borders with neighbouring countries.
- Nonviable nature of state finances.
- The classification was based on the 5th finance commission recommendations.
- It will be grant by central government.

About:

- Benefits to Special Category States:
 - Significant concessions are provided to these states in excise and custom duties, income tax, corporate tax.
 - Centre pays 90% of the funds required in centrally sponsored scheme.

- The National Development Council provided plan assistance to states by using the Gadgil formula — higher weightage to population and economic deprivation — after reserving 30 per cent of funds for the special category states (SCS) - ensuring that their requirements were prioritised in the allocation of Central assistance.

Parameters (Based on Gadgil Formula):

- Hilly Terrain;
- Low Population Density and/or Sizeable Share of Tribal Population;
- Strategic Location along Borders with Neighbouring Countries;
- Economic and Infrastructure Backwardness; and
- Nonviable Nature of State finances.

- However, with the dissolution of the Planning Commission and the establishment of the NITI Aayog in 2014, the 14th Finance Commission has done away with the 'special category status' for states, except for the Northeastern and three hill states.
- SCS is different from Special status which imparts enhanced legislative and political rights, while SCS deals with only economic and financial aspects.

Parcham Classes

- For instance, J&K used to have Special status before Article 370 was repealed.

► Benefits of Special Category Status:

- The Centre pays 90% of the funds required in a centrally-sponsored scheme to special category status states as against 60% or 75% in case of other states, while the remaining funds are provided by the state governments.
- Unspent money in a financial year does not lapse and is carried forward.
- Significant concessions are provided to these states in excise and customs duties, income tax and corporate tax.
- 30% of the Centre's Gross Budget goes to Special Category states.

► Concerns regarding Special Category Status:

- It causes Increased burden on Central Finances.
- Leads to demands from other states too. Example - demands from Andhra Pradesh, Odisha and Bihar.
